SPOT ANNOUNCEMENT - 41st MAY SHOW

One of the largest and most vital regional art shows in the world -
THE MAY SHOW - is now on exhibition at The Cleveland Museum of Art. This year marks the 41st of a show which has attracted over two and a half million people in its years of existence. Local artists and craftsmen - including some of the top flight ones in the country - have submitted painting, sculpture, silver, jewelry, enamels, textiles, drawings, prints, illustrations, pottery and photographs. 532 objects are on exhibition. Most of them are for sale.

THE SHOW continues through June 14 and is open free to the public.
